PROFILE

I'm an eager, curious, and hardworking journalist with three years of newspaper production experience and a strong short-term period in broadcast. During those three years, the Spartan Daily newspaper was named three statewide and three national best newspaper awards. I'm especially passionate about hard news and telling the stories of those often unheard. I'm known to meet my deadlines, work well under pressure, and produce clean, in-depth work.

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Science in Journalism

2018-2023

San Jose State University

EXPERIENCE

Expediter – San Jose Improv

January 2022-Present

Delegate kitchen operation in a fast-paced and high-stress environment; Received two promotions from door host and food/drink runner positions respectively.

Camp Director – San Jose Earthquakes

June 2021-Present

Dictate summer camp staff employment and coaching curriculum, oversee camp operation and safety, and handle parent/guardian communication.

Reporter – Update News

January-May 2023

Produced weekly hard-news coverage for San Jose State's broadcast show; Packages were primarily community based, featuring topics including houselessness, food insecurity, and police scandals.

Social Media Editor –The Spartan Daily

January-May 2023

Rejuvenated and redesigned social media accounts, which led to the gain of nearly 1,000 Instagram followers and triple the number of interactions.

Production Editor –The Spartan Daily

January-December 2022

Managed daily story and front page content for the news section and spearheaded art direction, which subsequently contributed to the paper's award-winning status both state and nationwide; Published my 50th article, which was a seven-month investigative piece.

Executive Editor –The Spartan Daily

August-December 2021

As the paper's top editor, perpetuated the publication's award-winning excellence through content and design management, as well as management of writers and editors in a hybrid modality with one of the lowest staff numbers in the paper's recent history.

News Editor, Asst. News Editor, Staff Writer – The Spartan Daily

January 2020-May 2021

Covered news stories including local and SJSU-related breaking news, local and student-run protests, investigations, and in-depth features; Won several individual state awards for such reporting.
